Catholic Social Teaching

An introduction for schools, parishes and charities

Raymond Friel

Catholic Social Teaching (CST) is sometimes referred to as the Church's best kept secret, perhaps because it's so radical. Catholic Social Teaching, as found in the letters and exhortations of popes since 1891, shows us a Gospel-inspired pathway to a society reconciled and in harmony through justice and love.

Raymond Friel, in his latest book, provides an introduction to this treasure of the Church. The book is aimed at those who don't know much about CST and are looking for an accessible guide to the main principles, with helpful references to scripture and the key Church documents.

This book is suitable for staff working in Catholic schools, or charities, or volunteers in parishes. It will motivate and inspire anyone who wants to make a difference, who believes that we are all in this together, one human family in a common home.

Raymond was awarded an OBE in the 2022 New Year Honours List for services to education.

Gaming and the Heroic Life

Bobby Angel

Gaming and the Heroic Life is a map to becoming not only a better gamer but also a better person. Angel shows where video games intersect with a life of faith in God—how games echo with our call to holiness and how we can respond to that call in both the virtual and real worlds.

Dancing to my Death

With the love called cancer

Daniel O'Leary

In the summer of 2018 Daniel O'Leary received the news that we all dread – a cancer diagnosis. As a priest, teacher, bestselling author and retreat facilitator, it was a natural instinct for Daniel to journal his thoughts and feelings during his cancer journey. Completed just before his death in January 2019, this book is an incredibly raw and courageous account. It pulls no punches in terms of Daniel's struggles to cope with his diagnosis, the challenges of cancer treatment and the emotional rollercoaster of facing his own death.
